ROUND 14 RAVE

CHAMPION/DATA/ISSUE 14

Hi and welcome to the 14th edition of the Fantasy Freako's rave for 2010. It was another high scoring round last week as the Cats and Dane Swan went on a rampage. This round will always be remembered for something else though, the loss of 2010 Dream Team hero Michael Barlow. In this week's edition I'll discuss his possible replacements, along with the usual team wrap for the upcoming round. Good luck to all coaches this week.

BARLOW DOWN AND OUT!

In football terms, it was nothing short of a tragedy. With minutes to go in last week's match against Port Adelaide, a sickening collision with Rhys Palmer ended Michael Barlow's year. As cruel as it might sound, we all have to pick ourselves up this week and find a replacement.

Finding a replacement won't be that hard considering that his price has jumped by a whopping $348,800 this year – the biggest rise of any player in the league. Depending on how much you want to spend, it's hard to go past Dane Swan. He's the premier player of the competition and ranks No.1 for points scored across the year – collecting almost 100 more than the next best player. His ability to score consistently high on a regular basis is his greatest strength, which allows you to lock him in as captain each week and know that he'll reward you in return.

If someone told you at the start of the year that after Round 14 you will be able to trade out Michael Barlow for Gary Ablett for virtually no extra money, then you would have accepted it. That's the scenario you are faced with this week, as you only need an extra $2,300 to make that trade. It's a no brainer if you ask me.

If you already have the two above mentioned players, then Leigh Montagna has to be looked at. He's the second-best scorer behind Dane Swan this year and with the Saints playing five of their last six matches at Etihad Stadium, he could pull out some big scores during the finals. He has averaged 121 points per match at the venue this season and has topped 130 points in five of his nine matches.

If you don't want to spend the full $454,600 though, then there are some great value options available, with the likes of Lenny Hayes, Marc Murphy, Joel Selwood and Brent Stanton all viable selections. Whichever way you go, you'll be bringing an elite midfielder into your team.

CATS TOP 500

Geelong celebrated more than a victory last week against North Melbourne, they also became the first team in AFL history to top the 500 disposal mark. They racked up an amazing 505 disposals (227 kicks and 278 handballs) which is seven more disposals than the previous best mark they set against Melbourne in Round 6 last season. They had six players have 30 or more disposals, while all but two players were able to have at least 15 disposals for the game. They have become a premier Dream Team side in recent years, having seven of the top-10 disposal games of all-time. There is only one thing to say to that, thank you Bomber!

FREAKO SAYS:

I know many coaches have already traded out Kurt Tippett, but it looks like he's back in town. He cracked 100 points for the first time this season last week against Essendon, scoring 107 points courtesy of his season-high six goals. He ranks fourth in the league for goals since Round 5 and is only $281,500.

Matthew Leuenberger has finally shown us why the Lions took him at No.4 in the 2006 NAB AFL Draft. In what can only be described as a "Dean Cox" like performance, the 204cm giant racked up a career-high 121 points last week against the Blues. I would like to see a few more games like this one though before jumping on.

FREAKO SAYS:

After ranking third in the competition for average Dream Team points after Round 7, the wheels have fallen off for Brent Stanton. He suffered his biggest price drop of the year this round, and has cracked 100 points in only one of his past six games. At his price though, he's way too good to overlook.

FREAKO SAYS:

The loss of Michael Barlow will now open the door for someone like Rhys Palmer to find more of the ball. He scored a season-high 112 points last week against Port Adelaide and as we know, he's an absolute ball magnet. At $287,500, he could be a handy pickup for the finals.
