ROUND 18 RAVE

CHAMPION/DATA/ISSUE 18

Hi and welcome to the 18th edition of the Fantasy Freako's rave for 2010. With the H&A season now behind us, it all starts again this week as we head into week one of the finals series. If you're facing a cut throat final, it's all or nothing this week, but if you have that vital double chance, you are in the enviable position where you could earn yourself a week off. Good luck to everyone this upcoming round.

PODS TO RIEWOLDT A WINNER

It was the most obvious trade of last round, moving on cult hero James Podsiadly for the improving Nick Riewoldt, who wasn't going to get much cheaper than $340,000. Almost 11,000 coaches made the transition, which was clearly the most popular trade for the round, behind trading down for mature age recruit Kyle Hardingham. In hindsight though, going for Lion youngster Ryan Harwood may have been the better option, considering he scored 42 more points than Hardingham. Upgrading to premiums was also a popular choice, with Dane Swan, Gary Ablett and Paul Chapman all making their way into our teams.

As mentioned above, James Podsiadly was the most traded out player last round, with 10,647 coaches giving him the boot. The biggest surprise though was the dropping of Jimmy Bartel, with over 3,000 coaches trading him out despite only missing the one game. That could prove to be a trade that haunts you in weeks to come.

Below are the top 10 players that were picked up / dumped for last round.

CAPTAIN FOR ROUND 19?

If you have Dane Swan in your side, it's pretty hard to overlook him for your captain this week. Almost two thirds of the competition is without the ball-magnet though, which means that you have to think long and hard as to whom you give the captain's arm band to this week.

After a downer against Adelaide in Round 16, Gary Ablett has to be considered. He's bounced back over the past two weeks, with 126 and 127 points respectively, while booting a combined eight goals. He loves playing against the Magpies and has topped to the 100 point mark in each of his past five games against them, averaging 117 points per match. Matthew Boyd is in career best form and is another option, but his record at AAMI Stadium isn't that great, averaging 65 points per game across his career, with only two scores over 90 points. If you're looking at catching your opponent off guard, then Colin Sylvia looms as a good smoky. He's coming off a season-high 149 points against Brisbane and racked up 125 points against the Tigers when he last came up against them in Round 4. He's also playing his 100th AFL match this week, which could spur him on for another big game.

Scott Gumbleton is almost certain to miss the rest of the season with broken ribs and a punctured lung, but we have to give credit to the kid, as he played out the match despite the injuries. At least we got 17 games out of him this year, which has to be seen as a positive.

*You face an interesting dilemma this week after Cyril Rioli was suspended for two matches. With only four games remaining, you really can't afford to hold onto him, unless you're really low on trades and have adequate cover. ## FREAKO SAYS:

AFL DREAM TEAM AVERAGE

If I knew that Brad Scott was going to play Josh Smith on Barry Hall last week, I would have advised you against trading out the big man. Seven goals and 112 points was a great result if you held onto him.
